

WITHDRAWAL POLICY

Students are expected to progress in a planned and logical manner through the degree requirements as outlined on the program guide for their major. Students who exhibit a pattern of repeated withdrawals from courses taught by the college are not considered to be following a logical progression toward a degree.

Accordingly, students whose transcripts have three (3) or more W's within the last four (4) quarters for courses taught within the college must receive permissive signatures from both their advisor and the department chair before they may register for classes. A complete withdrawal from all classes for any one quarter will count as a single W.
